

What other smart contract languages do you use?

How did the Solidity developer experience change overall in the last year in your opinion?

